

Important notice

The information has been compiled in accordance with the legal requirements of the European Directive 2003/89/EC for allergenic substances and traces, valid since 1 November 2004.

In addition, we included the indication “vegan” and “raw” . Vegan means that no animal products are contained as an ingredient. Production-related traces of animal products, however, cannot be excluded but are significantly below 0,1%. A minus sign in the “vegan” column means that the product is unsuitable for vegans. Raw means that products are produced under 40°C. A minus sign in the “raw” column is for products that have temperatures above 40°C during the production.

In the column „contains the following ingredient“ the ingredients in the labelled products are marked with a capital letter. Products with a minus sign do not contain these ingredients. However, the products may contain production-related traces in smallest quantities.

The column „may contain XY“ gives you a good overview of where allergen cross contact is contained.
Please take note, that if a product contains an allergen as ingredient, the allergen will not be declared as “may contain XY” and will be marked with a minus sign. Allergen cross contacts may occur due to different reasons. Pasta e. g. may contain gluten-containing, airborne dust from the grain storage silo where the cereal for the pasta production was stored. Major reasons for a contamination with allergens are storage and processing.

The indication “edible nuts” summarises all nuts.
This means that a product labelled “may contain edible nuts” may contain hazelnuts, almonds, cashews, pistachios, walnuts, pecan nuts, macadamia nuts or Brazil nuts.
We always list peanuts separately as they are a legume.

Please note that the allergens from the EC regulation 1169/2001 on the provision of food information to consumers can be found exclusively in the individual product descriptions in the Rapunzel web shop at <https://shop.rapunzel.de>. There you will also find descriptions of all special and seasonal Rapunzel articles. The following overview list is updated every four months. Since the allergens for our products may individually differ from time to time, we would like to ask you to also check the allergens in the individual products.
